“ Loved my brother to the moon and back!!

Faye Johnson McCullough - August 09, 2019 at 08:56 PM

“ It's been(2) months since your passings, my dear sweet husband, and I still hurt like it just happened! My life will NEVER be the same and a giant hole will always remain in my heart! I love you, my precious husband and miss you so badly! You were a God fearing man that loved your entire family and would do anything for all of us! I look forward to the day that we all can be together again, in Heaven, worshipping our Lord God and Savior Jesus Christ! Oh, how happy I will be to be with you once more! Until then, I promise to take care of our children, grandchildren, all our loved ones, and myself, for I know that's what you'd would have wanted! If I had it all over to do again, I would NEVER change a thing! Our life together was magical and we created so many beautiful memories together that most people would never fathom! God bless you, my darling husband! "Be still," per our Lord's words, and time shall pass, and we will be together again, forever! I will always love you, Marvin! Thank you for everything, especially your unending love! With all my love, Paulette “ Marvin was a great friend and co-worker. His laugh was contagious and easily obtained. Always quick to help you out if you needed it but pretty good at hide-and-seek on occasion as well.

I already miss our Monday morning conversations on who had the best Sunday dinners and the adventures of his grandchildren and Molly.

Most of all I admire Marvin for his dedication to Paulette. Every day at lunch, like clock work, I'd hear him roll his chair back and he'd be dialing her up as he walked out of the shop. I'd hear him on the phone hollering at doctors on her behalf on occasion. Never once heard him complain about taking Paulette to the doctor though.

A good man gone away too soon. You will me missed.

“ I worked with Marvin at Ford to GM then Lockheed. Marvin was a great friend. He was fun to work with. He tried to inject humor into each situation. I will miss his laughter. I will miss him and I do miss him.

“ Marvin was a very special first cousin. I loved to hear him play guitar. He loved his music. Our mothers are sisters and their family is very close. We visited more when we were all younger; then we all had our own families. We went to his wedding when he married our beautiful, sweet Paulette and they had their own children. Even so, when we got together over the years, it was as though no time had passed. He picked me up from the airport in Atlanta when our grandmother died and I was able to spend time with his family in their home. I'm so glad I saw him and had lunch with him recently at our Uncle's funeral. Many good memories of fun and laughter visiting his family at the lake, riding his motorcycle, hanging out while he was looking at cookbooks, telling jokes and catching up at family reunions. Marvin, you will be missed.
