He was someone to count on as he never missed a day's work. He enjoyed fishing, camping, gardening, woodworking, and music. He had a great compassion for animals. He loved helping his family, friends and was often called on to "fix" things. He took pride in his children's accomplishments and his home. He will be greatly missed by his family that loved him, and friends who knew him. Our family sincerely thanks all who offered care, and support to Nick, and our family throughout this difficult time.

“ I remember having serious conversations about sharks with Nick. Most of the time we were laughing so hard it hurt. He was always eager to help with anything you needed. He had a kind and generous heart. I will always remember our visits and will miss talking about things that made me laugh. Thank you Nick , will miss you . Gail.
